1. On 2 December 1947 the Life Book Store (Sheng Huo Shu Tien/生活書店) moved from 6 Chungking Road to the fourth floor of Number 4, Lane 364, Foochow Road, Shanghai. This new office is smaller than the former one. Since the change in offices, the Life Book Store has not offered for sale any publications published in cities other than Shanghai; prior to December 1947 the Life Book Store offered for sale publications from cities other than Shanghai. These were almost entirely Chinese Communist Party publications or Democratic League publications.
2. The Soviet-supported Universal Book Company (T'ien Hsia T'u Shu Kung Ssu/天下圖書公司) now gives more publications for sale to the pro-Soviet Li Ch'un Publishing Company (Li Ch'un Ch'u Pan Fa Hsing So/利群書報發行所) than to the Life Book Store because the Life Book Store has been under close surveillance by the Chinese Police since the store moved to Foochow Road.
3. A new Soviet-supported publishing company, The Hsin Feng Publishing Company (Hsin Feng Ch'u Pan Kung Ssu/新豐出版公司), has been opened at Number 6, Lane 239, Peking Road Western, Shanghai. This company has published a number of books written by Chinese Communists, members of the Democratic League, Chinese leftists and some translations from Soviet publications.
4. The Camel Bookstore (Lo T'o Shu Tien/駱駝書店), a small bookstore at Number 29, Lane 234, Chung Cheng Road Northern, Shanghai, has recently published a number of translations from Soviet literature.
5. The Chung Yuan Publishing Society (Chung Yuan Ch'u Pan She/中原出版社) at Number 82, Lane 537, Wu Ting Road, Shanghai, has published a number of leftist periodicals including Wen I (文藝) edited by the leftist writer FAN Ch'uan (范泉).
6. The Observer Weekly (Kuan Ch'a Chou K'an/觀察週刊) is planning to expand into a publishing company in February 1948 and to publish a series called The Observer Series (Kuang Ch'a Ch'ung Shu/觀察叢書) which will include articles written by members of the Democratic League such as LIANG Shu-ming (梁漱溟), CHANG Tung-sun (張東蓀), P'AN Kuang-tan (潘光旦) and FEI Hsiao-t'ung (費孝通) and other liberals. The present building is considered too small; the office of The Observer Weekly will be moved to 1972 Szechuan Road Northern during the latter part of January 1948

7. The Putung (浦東) District of Shanghai has been a center for leftist publications since October 1947. The Putung Pen Association (P'u Tung Pi Hui/浦東筆會), an organization of over fifty leftist writers, is very active in the Putung area. Branch Associations have also been established in the following suburban districts of Shanghai: Nan Hui (南匯), Ch'uan Sha (川沙), Nan Ch'iao (南橋) and T'ung P'u (同浦). Members of the Putung Pen Association and its branches have published a series of periodicals called The Farcy of Life (Shang Huo Ti K'uan Hsiang/生活的狂想) in addition to publishing various articles in the Ta Kung Pao and the Hsin Lin Wan Pao and printing and mimeographing a number of pamphlets in the Putung District for semi-secret circulation in Shanghai proper. The following leftist and pro-Soviet writers in the Shanghai area are members of the above Association: YEH Sheng-t'ao (葉聖陶), TSAI K'o-chia (戴克家), WANG Yu-t'ien (王郁天), LO Ken (羅根), KUC Lo-jo (郭沫若), FAN Ch'uan (范泉) and AI Su (艾蕪).
8. The Great Conspiracy Against Russia (Chinese title, Fan Su Ta Yin Mou/反蘇大陰謀) by Michael Sayers and Albert L. Kahn, was translated by P'AN Chi-chiung (潘際炯), LIANG Ch'un-fu (梁純夫) and HSIAO Yu (小魚). The first portion of the book was originally translated by LIANG Ch'un-fu and appeared in the leftist The Critiques (P'ing Lun Pao/評論報) in November and December 1946; The Critiques was suspended from publication about June 1947. The complete translation was published in July 1947 and the second edition in October 1947. In Shanghai the book was sold by the Hua Hsia Book Store (華夏書店) at 523 Feng Yang Road; it was published by the Knowledge Publishing Society (Chih Shih Ch'u Pan She/知識出版社) and a great number of copies were sold.
9. Inside USA (Chinese title, Mei Kuo Nei Mu/美國内幕) by John Gunther was translated by HSIAO Yu, P'AN Chi-chiung and WANG Chang-lin (王章麟). The first, second and third editions were published respectively in August, September and October 1947. This book became one of the best sellers in China. It was published by the Three Persons Publishing Society (San Jen Ch'u Pan She/三人出版社), which means the publishing society of the three translators themselves. The book was sold by the Life Publishing Company.
10. P'AN Chi-chiung is an editor of the Shanghai Ta Kung Pao. HSIAO Yu and WANG Chang-lin are both newspaper editors. HSIAO Yu also writes articles for the leftist magazine Modern Woman (Hsien Tai Fu Nu/現代婦女).
11. The Voice of Wallace (Hua Lai Shih Ti Ku Sheng/華萊士的呼聲) is a translation of a biography of Wallace, speeches by Wallace and other articles concerning his life and ideas. It was translated by LIANG Ch'un-fu and HSIAO Yu and published by the O Mei Publishing Society (O Mei Ch'u Pan She/哦嗎出版社) c/o 328 Honan Road, Shanghai, - the address of the Li Ch'un Publishing Company which printed the book. The first edition was published in July 1947 and the second or revised edition in September 1947.
12. An Uncorrupt Man (Chinese title, Great Man Wallace/偉人華萊士) was translated by HSIAO Yu. It was published by the Three Persons Publishing Society and sold at the Li Ch'un Publishing Company. Wallace is one of the most popular Americans among many Chinese university students and intellectuals.
